What's Happening Now

June is here and now we have just 3 meeting before the show. We have quite a few projects we are working on finishing up, the office and moving everything in it, working on the Sears house, demolition on the inside and painting the outside, work on the Avery and numerous other projects. As always volunteers are needed to help with these projects.

May 17th was education day; we had about 300 students visit us. I think they enjoyed their day and had an opportunity to see and experience life on a rural farm about 60 plus years ago.

May 25th was the auction; we had lots of vendors and a lot of people strolling around looking at all the fleas at the market. Our bid numbers were down by about 50 numbers from last year. The kitchen did very well again this year, the day was decent but the tractor buyers were at the Aitkin Implement Auction. Unfortunately we did not have the success of the last few years. The auction was down by half.

Bruce is at home; he is trying to build up his white cell count and working on getting stronger and better each day. He has to be very careful of "germs" and is at present wearing a mask to shield himself from them. He is cancer free now, and we are all hoping and praying he stays that way. He has to come to town on a regular basis for blood work and will return to the hospital for another bone marrow tap in the near future. So please continue to pray for a cure for all who suffer from this disease.

Please remember Anna, Bev and Mauri and Gary B. in your thoughts and prayers.

A great Big Thank You goes out to all of you who worked so hard at both Education Days and at The Auction. We have such a great group of folks who know what is needed and pitch right in and get the job done. We have a beautiful area to keep up and maintain, that certainly does not happen magically, the dedicated Wednesday Crew is probably underappreciated but you folks ROCK. The kitchen folks (can't just say gals or guys) also Rock we always have great numbers from the kitchen for all our events, wonderful treats from everyone, great cooperation and always laughter and smiles coming from the kitchen. It seems a small reward but to one and all Thank You.
